

It has been ten years since our very first All Points catalog was created by Greg in our living room using one of the first digital cameras made (lower resolution than what can now be purchased in the toy department at Walmart) and a 386 computer. While basic nuts, bolts and screws have remained the same over the years, there has been much innovation and development in the fastener industry and at All Points.

Over the years, All Points has greatly increased its purchasing power, delivery and territory coverage. We are committed to developing, warehousing and distributing fasteners to many market segments. We stock a vast inventory in our 40,000 square foot warehouse and are adding new items daily. We deliver throughout South East and South West Florida with our fleet of vehicles and ship common carrier to all other destinations.

All Points is proud to be a stocking distributor for such manufactures as ITW Buildex, Elco and Powers Fasteners. We hold the patents on the Combination Sidewalk Bolt and a Miami Dade County Notice of Acceptance on the Solid Set Anchor.

We are pleased to offer you this catalog as a sampling of our commonly stocked items. It is in no way a complete listing of all the fasteners we carry, or can obtain within the same or next day. We want to bring you images and sizes of parts that many of you need and hopefully give you enough information to allow the proper questions to be asked for items not shown in the pages which follow.

As the All Points family has grown in people as well as products, we have striven to maintain our level of individual customer service. We pride ourselves on being flexible to help each customer with his/her individual needs.

Thank you for your continued support and allowing All Points to grow and serve you.

Greg and Gaby Mann
